"ATEN was the only manufacturer able to deliver a large amount of products in a short time allowing us to fulfill our installation schedule."

- Mr. Curreri

Requirements

- Support a wide range of monitors from different manufacturers
- Distance from the source to the monitors should reach up to 40m
- It should be a budget friendly solution

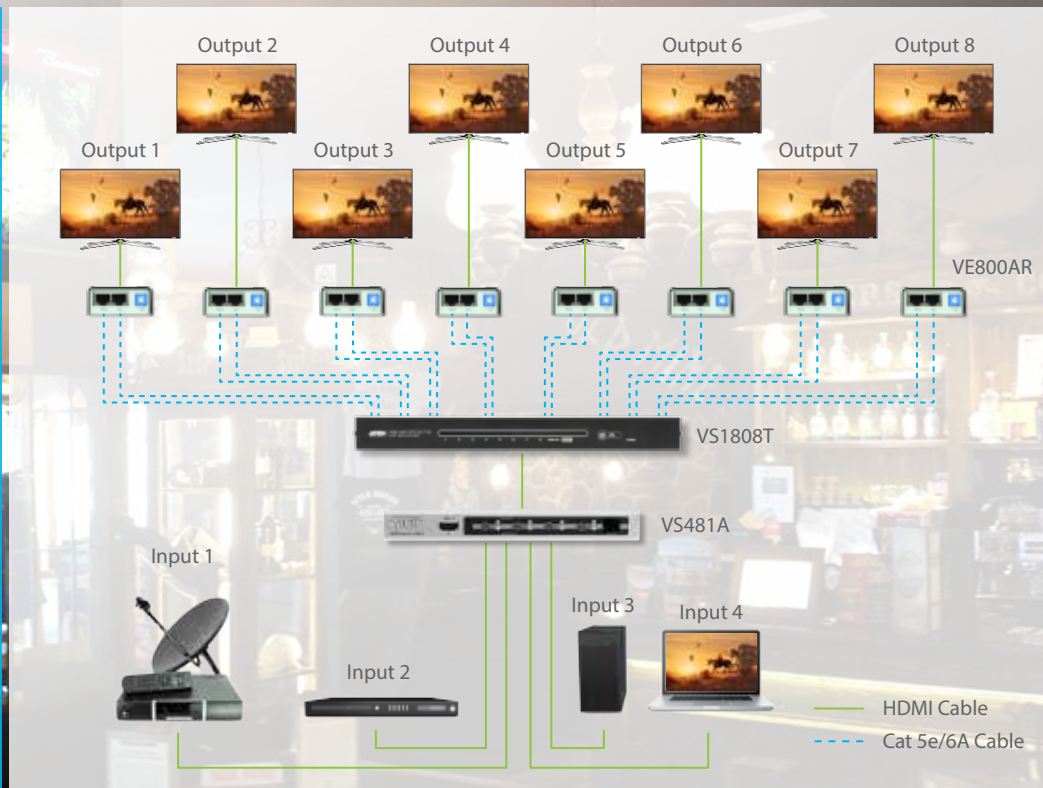

Benefits

- EDID mode selection – The ATEN splitter will give you the option to select the best EDID profile to guarantee compatibility with all the connected monitors.
- Power-on detection – Automatically switches the source when the current source shuts down. No more black screens!
- Compatibility – All ATEN products work seamless with each other and many competitor brands. This offer the possibility to expand your setup and make it future proof.

Old Wild West / Agenzia Curreri, Italy

Old Wild West is a restaurant chain that immerses its guests in the lost world of the wild west. To enhance this experience, Mr. Curreri from Agenzia Curreri was asked to set up a media distribution setting with 4 to 8 monitors in each subsidiary, so they could easily distribute their private channel, "Old Wild West Channel".

Mr. Curreri evaluated the AV market to find the best solution among the main AV manufacturers. He found that ATEN's wide range of solutions suits his needs. At this moment, Old Wild West can count on ATEN to deliver high quality video to 333 screens across multiple subsidiaries with a plan to install additional devices in more restaurants.
